

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamer Canadian.

Breadstuff Declined.

Quebec, July 15.—The steamer Canadian arrived from Liverpool about July 24. Breadstuff with a declining tendency. Wheat declined 3d, Flour 1c lower. Corn declined 1c. It is reported that a Conference of the three protecting powers will be held in London during the present month, to settle the affairs of Greece. Mr. Moore has moved in the House of Commons that the conduct of the government on the endowment question has not entitled them to the approbation of the House. Several members appealed to Mr. Moore to postpone his motion, but he refused to do so. The Attorney General defended the government.

He said the despatches from the United States were not such as might have been expected from a government anxious to preserve friendly relations with England.

Sir N. Thesiger said, that the British agents had previously raised the laws of the United States and the law of nations.

Mr. Baillie declared that England was dishonored by her attempts to reduce the citizens of the United States from their allegiance.

Sir J. Walsh said, that the government by not dismissing Mr. Dallas had confessed they had done wrong.

Mr. Milner Gibson said that the Earl of Clarendon's conduct was insulting towards the United States, and that that government and the American people should understand that the British people did not support the Minister there.

Mr. Gladstone contended that the most blameable feature was the concealment observed towards the American Government, for which the Earl of Clarendon and Mr. Cranston were equally responsible.

Other members spoke in similar strains. Sir Geo. Grey and Mr. Phillimore, Solicitor General, and others, defended the Government. The debate was continued for ten days, when the House divided, and the Government was sustained by a majority of 100.

France.—The subject of interest in the process of the Prince of Orleans.

A FILLMORE CALCULATION.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser claims 119 votes certain for Fillmore, conceding 63 to Buchanan, 43 to Fremont, and classes 72 doubtful. The States claimed for Fillmore are Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, North Carolina, Louisiana, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, and Delaware.

Buchanan States, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, and Connecticut.

Fremont States, Vermont, Rhode Island, Ohio, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Doubtful, Maine, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and California.

We are unwilling to accord to Buchanan any of the States which the Commercial has set down for him except perhaps Texas. South Carolina elects by her Legislature. It is not unusual for her to throw away her vote, and from the universal disfavor manifested there toward the nomination of Buchanan, we are impressed with the belief that her vote will be thrown away upon Pierce. We look upon Virginia as far more certain for Mr. Fillmore than for Buchanan. It will be remembered that it went for Wise by less than 10,000 majority under circumstances peculiarly unfavorable to the American party.

The whole number of votes claimed by the American party were cast for Mr. Fillmore, but he received no outside vote whatever. The State was thoroughly and vigorously canvassed by "gizzard-foot." Wise and a host of other popular and ingenious anti-American orators, and, the secrecy having not yet been removed, the Americans did not make a single speech during the whole canvass. Just previous to the election the Massachusetts Legislature had passed the odious personal liberty bill which was unjustly charged to the American party in the North. These and various other circumstances contributed at that time to the defeat of the American party. Now the case is entirely different. The whole vote of Virginia is about 150,000. There are enrolled members of the American party to the number of 72,000. Besides these at least 10,000 Old Line Whigs who voted for Wise will vote for Fillmore.

Add to these the disaffected in the ranks of the Democracy who cannot swallow the nomination of Buchanan and who have become completely disgusted with the election Governor and his party, and we have reason to believe that there are many thousands of them in Virginia. Thus it will be seen that Mr. Fillmore is almost certain to carry the Old Dominion. At least it will not do to put it down as certain against him.

In Arkansas we have recently been informed that there are 17,000 voters comprised in the American Order, which is a greater number than the whole vote cast in the last State election in that State, and nearly two-thirds of the whole vote of the State. Arkansas may thus be put down as certain for Fillmore. In Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi Fillmore's chances are fully equal to Buchanan's. Some of our friends in Georgia and Alabama have written to us that these States are certain for Fillmore. We think this is true, particularly in regard to Alabama, for twenty two out of the twenty-seven papers published in that State are in favor of Fillmore, and the whole population does not exceed 75,000. Connecticut is already certain for Fremont unless there should be both a Fremont and Johnston as well as a Fremont and Dayton electoral ticket there, in which case the Fillmore Americans will undoubtedly have a majority.

We are not sufficiently familiar with the condition of parties in Texas to make a reliable calculation in regard to it. We have been assured that if the Germans in Texas run a Fremont ticket, which they are almost certain to do, the American party will there also most assuredly triumph.

What then becomes of Buchanan's strength? With not one single State certain for him, and a desperate prospect for success in any of the States North or South, it is manifestly foolish for his friends to ask Southern electors to believe that he can compete with Col. Fremont in the North or Mr. Fillmore in the South. If the South wishes to protect its own interests it will give a united support to Millard Fillmore, in whom all can without hesitation confide. He is the only competitor of the Free soil candidate in the North, and with a united Southern support will undoubtedly be elected.—Low Journal.

It is stated that the late offer of the Government of Denmark to the United States for a postponement of the Sound dues question has been accepted through the mediation of Prussia and Russia.

OUR FLAG.

Plung it out and gaze upon it.

Plung it out and gaze upon it—
Rush on the foe and brave;
With their lives and fortunes stake,
Shall it drop above their grave?
Let it wave, and may the nation
Be they cheer or be they fear—
Watch its wavy undulations,
And show their guiding star.
Let the stricken ones behold it,
As they wipe away a tear;
Would to God each one could find
Round their farm without a fear.

Plung it out, and flag it boldly,
Never fear a minion's hate;
There are those who love not coldly,
There are those who love not late.
Only thirteen spangles graced it,
When first appeared in view—
Now thirty stars in beauty
Glisten on a field of blue.

Clatter round it, mine the maiden,
As the breezing moment flies;
Let the very air be laden
With the number thirty ones.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN FLAG STRUCK.

The Fillmore Standard Nailed to the Mast.

The events of every day convince us that the better sense of the people is being aroused with the full determination to rescue the country from the grasp of fanaticism and party ill-will. The evidence is around us upon every side, and it is making itself manifest in a thousand different ways. Many who were undecided are now declaring themselves on the side of their country, and in opposition to sectional distinction. Newspapers that have been the subject of intimidation from the secession have shaken the shackles from them, and vindicated their independence by the support of MILLARD FILLMORE.

We have now to record the striking of another Republican flag, by the Wyandot (Ohio) Pioneer, and the unqualified assent of American issues and MILLARD FILLMORE their representative. In relation to the change the Pioneer says:

Hereafter we will not support any man for office—we care not what his politics may be—unless we are satisfied that he is doing so we are doing right; we cannot be induced to do wrong for the paltry consideration of dollars and cents. We would rather be defeated with the proud consciousness of having done right, than to succeed by practicing deception—a clear conscience is more valuable to us than silver or gold.

The man who will barter his conscience, and all the better constituents of his nature, for political aggrandizement or party ascendancy, is unworthy the name of man. For one, we do not feel disposed to yield our better judgment to party policy or to the schemes of politicians. We will not sacrifice our manhood our conscience, our right and wrong, our independent one of thought and action, in order to retain our position in any party; and a party whose members exact such base humiliation is not worthy the countenance of an honest man.

Now, we have been told that if we do not like the nomination, we ought to keep quiet and go for the ticket for the sake of the success of a great principle. "Not so!" "He is a freeman whom the truth makes free." Our conscience points us to the path, and we would not act a lie were we to pursue any other course. We would rather place the interests of this country in the hands of any honest, upright man, whom we know to be capable of guarding and protecting them, than to place them in the hands of the ignorant tool of designing men.

If we gave our support to Fremont we would do so in direct opposition to our own conviction of right, and while we would accord to our friends the privilege of pursuing just such a course as may seem right to them, without the fear of censure from us, we also claim the privilege of doing what we conceive to be our duty without regard to party ties or the opinions of others.

We have weighed this matter well—we have not acted hastily—we have given the subject that cool and serious deliberation which its importance seemed to demand at our hands, and the following are the conclusions we have arrived at:

1. We cannot support Buchanan because we look upon him as a time-serving, truckling, dishonest politician, who would make the interests of his country subservient to the success of his party, if occasion required it. In short, he is a politician by trade, and with that class of men, party is paramount to every other consideration.

2. We cannot support Fremont, because we believe he lacks the qualifications which we believe a candidate for the Presidency should possess.

3. Millard Fillmore has honesty, ability and experience, and although some portions of the platform upon which he stands do not suit us, we believe that the government of this country would be safer in his hands than in those of either of the candidates we have named. Believing this, we shall have our vote and the benefit of what little influence we may possess.

WHY THEN FEEL SO BAD.—A man once came home from a political meeting in which the women call "a precious humor" to the inquiries of his wife as to the cause of his gloom, he said that he had just listened to a speech of the most violent and abusive personal character against him, charging him with all sorts of imbecility, inconsistency and treachery.

"Well, why should you suffer yourself to be annoyed about it?" asked his wife. "You know he cannot prove it." "He did prove it," thundered the indignant husband, "and that is what I am angry about."

And this is why the friends of Mr. Buchanan feel so uneasy on the charge of "bargain and corruption." They know we have proved it beyond the possibility of a doubt.—Ex.

SECTIONAL QUALIFICATIONS FOR OFFICE.—North—to hate the South. South—to hate the North. Mr. Fillmore, "the Republicans" here tell us, is disqualified—even because he is well thought of at the South. It is not pretended, however, that he ever "approved," or did anything, as President—but what Washington set him an example in doing, and what Clay and Webster living, did endorse.—N. Y. Express.

THE SILENT WOMAN.

Who has for some time been on exhibition in this city, was yesterday tried in a charge of lunacy, before the Probate Court, a number of physicians of the first respectability being present, and from the evidence given and the facts elicited in the examination of her person by the physicians, it appears that the largest portion of the mystery in the case is humbuggery.

She is a woman of remarkable appearance, and when first brought to the city, was about the wildest looking human creature that we ever saw. Her wildness has been acted, then she is an actress of no ordinary capacity. Her female attendant seems to have been deceived, and North, who told the wonderful story about capturing the creature described as dressed in skins sewn together with grass, with his dogs has suddenly departed.—Cin. Commercial.

OLD RIF VAN WINKLE AWAKED.—The gallant old Whigs of North Carolina are going to make for Fillmore and Donelson. The Hon. Wm. P. Mangum has taken the field in favor of the American ticket. At a recent Fillmore meeting in Orange county he presided and made a speech, endorsing the movement in the American party, and stated that, though an Old Union Whig, he was with them heart and soul in the coming contests State and National. This is as it should be. The conservative Old Line Whigs and National Americans should be found shoulder to shoulder in the present contest, aiding each other with heart and hand to uphold the banner of the Union party, on which are inscribed in letters of glowing truth, the names of Fillmore and Donelson.—Louisville Journal.

IF A Western post, says the Knickerbocker, composed the following in just an hour while there is so much "spirit" in the country.

What! hast thou glorious Union up,
An' go to down in triggers,
Just for a shaverin' parcel
Of emancipated niggers?
The eagle's America,
That flies across the sea,
An' thered the bloody British lion
Ker slump upon his knee;
Says, shall we rend him from 'em,
Was wing wavin' an' sun 'em 'er,
An' every supportin' feather
A flyin' at each other.

Hon. ALVIN P. Hovey, late Judge of the Supreme Court, has been appointed by the President, United States District Attorney for the district of Indiana, vice B. M. Thomas, Esq., late incumbent.—not incumbent, as the State Sentinel had it.—Evansville Enquirer.

Another Accession to Fillmore. The Philadelphia Inquirer, the organ of the Straight Whigs, and a very influential journal, has a strong article in favor of Mr. Fillmore. We quote:

One thing, at least is certain—the election of Millard Fillmore to the Chief Magistracy of the Republic would be a national blessing. He has been tried, and he has realized the highest expectations, even of his warmest friends. He is for the Union as it is—he is for peace and all its purchases blessings—he is for the Constitution and all the laws—and, in short, he is the best man for the office.

The New York Sunday Dispatch, alluding to Mr. Fillmore's arrival in this country, and the effect since produced, says:

His speeches in favor of the compromise measures and the Union have electrified the masses, and to day his chances are far above par. On all hands, we find men who had been talking in favor of Buchanan and Fremont, now giving their adhesion to Fillmore. Common sense is out for him. The North Americans, it is whispered, will endorse him in a day or two. Edward Everett is to take the stump for him; and in a word, it seems as if the people had made up their minds to administer a signal rebuke to the sectionalists North and South, and to the triumphant electors of the Union.

IF his friends can have been during the past two days, MILLARD FILLMORE will be the next President.

A NEW PRINTING PRESS.—We have seen a new printing press just set up and now running in this city, which combines many excellencies and is specially adapted to doing the work of country printing offices, as it is prepared to do so many kinds of printing. We consider it superior to the press of the city, and it is furnished at a price which places it within the reach of every one. It combines nearly all the principles of the Napier press. The bed is driven by an endless chain, thereby avoiding all concussion in passing the type, as no spiral springs are required to stop the force or momentum of the bed, as required by the rack and cog, running very still and with great ease.

This machine has been manufactured under the supervision of J. M. Patterson, one of the best machine men in the United States. It is particularly adapted to book job and fine newspaper printing. It files its own sheets perfectly, and has a perfect registering apparatus. The press may be driven by man or steam power. With the same attendance, it will print twice as fast as any bed and platen machine, and equally as well in every respect—say from 1,000 to 1,700 impressions per hour, according to the work desired.—Chicago Press.

A BAZAAR.—President says the North won't trust the Democratic candidate with the resolutions annexed, and the South is suspicious of the platform with the candidate annexed.
